BDCUCF receives $5000 donation

COMMUNITY Oxley College

THE Oxley College Parents' and Friends' Association has made a generous donation to the BDCU Children's Foundation.

The money was raised through the college's inaugural Eve on the Green event last November. The open-air concert fundraiser which featured music, food and wine, sold over 1400 tickets.

John Waters and Leo Sayer led a host of performers from Oxley, Chevalier College and the Southern Highlands Christian Schools in a showcase of young talent.

Meanwhile, Geoff Jansz cooked up a storm with an army of parent volunteers who ran food and drink stalls.

The casual, affordable and upbeat event made the Highlands community feel like dancing.

The event raised money in support of the Bowral BDCU Children's Foundation and their Youth Mental Health initiatives.

The remaining funds will be split between Oxley's three sister school charities in Nepal, Botswana and Fiji.
